AQUANIMA COOKIE POLICY

1. Responsible entity

By way of this notice, IBÉRICA DE COMPRAS CORPORATIVAS, S.L., a Spanish company with registered address at Avda. De Cantabria S/N, Edificio Arrecife, Planta 0, 28660 Boadilla del Monte, Madrid, with Tax ID number B-82797713 and registered in the Mercantile Registry of Madrid volume 15,946, Book 0, Section 8, page M-269630, and owner of this website ("AQUANIMA" or the "Editor", indistinctly), informs the users of the website www.aquanima.com ("the Website" and "the User or the Users") about its Cookie Policy, so that they understand the cookies that will be used while they browse the Website and can consent to their use

This Cookie Policy (the "Cookie Policy") is supplemented by this website's privacy policy in all relevant matters.

2. What are cookies?

Cookies are files that are downloaded and stored on the devices (computer/smartphone/tablet) of users who browse the Internet when they access some websites and applications. They are used to store and retrieve information about the browsing from that device.

Cookies can be installed either directly by the websites visited or by third parties with which the website has some kind of connection. The website uses the cookies to keep track of the user's activity on the site and others connected with it, for example: the location from which it is accessed, the connection time, the device from which it is accessed (fixed or mobile), the operating system and browser used, the most visited websites, the number of clicks and data on the user's browsing habits.

3. What cookies does this Website use and for what purpose?

This Website uses the following types of cookies:

3.1. Strictly necessary cookies inserted by the Editor and technical cookies: the Editor inserts both types of cookies in the Website and accesses the information to provide services requested by the user and to ensure the technical operation of the Website respectively. As the name indicates, these are necessary to provide the service and the service cannot be provided if they are disabled.
Pursuant to art. 22.2 of the ISESA (Information Society Services and Electronic Commerce Act), users do not have to give their consent for them to be used.
These cookies do not enable us to identify the user unambiguously.

The table below provides more in-depth information about these cookies.

OWNER	NAME	PURPOSE	DURATION/EXPIRATION PERIOD
Aquanima	SMSN_CNTCT	Improve performance	24 hours
Aquanima	SMSN_CRVT	Improve performance	24 hours
Aquanima	TM_MCHN	Improve performance	1 year
Aquanima	TMP_NF	Improve performance	1 year

3.2. Third-party cookies: the types of third party cookies that may be downloaded to the User's device when using the Website that are sent by a domain or device managed by a third party other than the Editor, or which are inserted by the Editor but the information from which is processed by a third party, are described below, according to their purpose. These cookies do not enable the Editor to identify the users who browse its website. Information collected by third parties using these cookies is subject to their privacy policies.

3.2.1. Analysis cookies: these cookies enable the Editor to track and analyse the behaviour of users when they browse its website and use its services. The Editor uses them to measure the activity on the website and create browsing profiles that enable it to make improvements based on analysis of usage data. The information handled does not allow the user to be identified uniquely.

This Website uses Google Analytics to analyse how Users use the Website. These cookies collect anonymous information about how visitors use the website to enable the Editor to improve the User's experience.

These cookies do not collect identifiable personal information about the visitor. The information collected by these cookies is aggregated and therefore anonymous. These cookies are only used to improve website performance. Please visit the Google Privacy Centre and the Google Analytics opt-out browser add-on web pages for more information about how cookies work and how to disable them.

The table below provides more detailed information on these cookies:

AQUANIMA
Grupo Santander

Owner	Name	Purpose	Duration/Expiration period
Google	_ga	Used to distinguish users.	2 years
Google	_gid	Used to distinguish users.	24 hours
Google	_gat	Used to throttle request rate. If you have implemented Google Analytics using Google Tag Manager, this cookie will be called _dc_gtm_<property-id>.	1 minute
Google	AMP_TOKEN	Includes a token that can be used to retrieve a customer ID from the AMP customer ID service. Other possible values indicate disabling, requests in progress, or errors obtained by retrieving an AMP Customer ID service ID.	30 seconds to 1 year
Google	_gac_<property-id>	Includes user-related campaign information. If you've linked your Google Analytics and Google Ads accounts, website conversion tags will read this cookie, unless you disable it	90 days
Google	__utma	Distinguishes between users and sessions. A user is a person who visits the site. A session is the period that the user spends on the site, during which they may visit several pages. The cookie analyses how the site is used in terms of visits and page views by users.	Two years from configuration or last update
Google	__utmt	Used to throttle the request rate. This means limiting the number of analysis events sent to Google.	10 minutes
Google	__utmb	Used to differentiate new sessions/visits from repeat visits. Returning visitors can be identified through the cookie, which new visitors will not have.	30 minutes from configuration or update
Google	__utmc	Used in conjunction with the _utmb cookie to determine whether a user is a new or returning visitor.	End of browser session
Google	__utmz	Stores the source of traffic or campaign that explains how the user got to the site.	Six months from configuration or last update
Google	__utmv	Used to store visitor-level custom variable data. This cookie is created when a developer uses the _setCustomVar method with a customer-level custom variable. It is also used for the deprecated _setVar method. The cookie is updated every time data is sent to Google Analytics.	Two years from configuration or last update

4. What is the legal ground for the use of cookies?

Except in the case of strictly necessary and technical cookies, which we have already explained above, the Editor will only insert cookies into your device (the user's device) with your prior consent.

You may give your consent by clicking "Accept all cookies" or by adjusting the settings for those cookies to which you freely consent through the cookie settings panel displayed by the Editor the first time you access the Website.

5. Can you withdraw your consent?

Once the cookies have been installed, the user may choose to revoke their consent and delete them at any time. Users can do this using the content and privacy settings available in their browser while browsing the website. The following are some examples of procedures for withdrawing consent and deleting cookies, depending on the browser used:

Firefox: http://support.mozilla.org/es/home
Internet/Explorer: http://support.microsoft.com/ph/807/es-es
Safari: http://support.apple.com/kb/HT1677?viewlocale=es_ES
Opera: http://help.opera.com/Windows/8.54/es-ES/index.html
Chrome: https://support.google.com/chrome/?hl=es

6. Additional notes

Web browsers are responsible for storing cookies and this is where you may exercise your right to delete or disable them.

The website owner will not be held responsible if disabling cookies prevents the website from working properly and cannot guarantee that the cookies will be handled correctly by the browsers.

In some cases, cookies must be installed so that the browser does not forget your decision not to accept them.

7. Update to the Cookie Policy and contacts

This Cookie Policy may change depending on the cookies used.

The Editor recommends that you review this policy each time you access our website so that you are properly informed about how and why we use cookies and are aware of any changes in the type of data collected.

If you have a question about the Portal's Cookie Policy, or want to revoke the consent previously given, you may contact the Editor at the following address: gestion.gdpr@aquanima.com indicating "Cookie Policy" in the subject line.
