

USE OF COOKIES

1. Concept of Cookies

Cookies are files that are stored on a user's computer when browsing the Internet and which, specifically, contain a number that allows the user's computer to be unequivocally identified, even if the user changes locations or IP addresses.

Cookies are installed while browsing the Internet, either by websites that the user visits or by third parties with whom a website interacts, enabling them to identify the user's activity on that site or on others linked to it. For instance, it is possible to identify the location from which a site is accessed, the session's duration, the device from which it is accessed (fixed or mobile), the operating system and browser used, most-visited websites, number of clicks, and online user behaviour data.

Access to the website does not require cookies to be enabled, although disabling them may prevent the site from operating correctly.

2. Types of Cookies used on the website

Users browsing the website may find cookies sent directly by the Owner as opposed to any third-party cookies. This website only uses cookies that are strictly necessary to enable the website to be browsed correctly, ensure that the content loads properly and allow the provision of online services expressly requested by the user. These cookies are also session cookies, meaning they are temporary and are removed automatically when the user closes the browser.

For the purposes described above, this website only uses the following cookies:

Qtranslate	Aquanima	Session		Control Wordpress translations
acceptcookiesAquanima	Aquanima	After 10 days		Control cookies
B-accepted	Aquanima	Session		Control cookies
